

Obey

Patricia W. Felker

God of grace, God of mercy
You have set your plans in motion
Now I know they include me
You have proven your devotion

Take my hand, my tomorrow
Where you lead, I will follow
Any place you choose
Any time you say
I promise to obey

I will obey, I will obey You
As long as I'm living
I will obey, I will obey You
As long as I'm breathing
I pledge my all to heed your call
Every single day, I will obey

Ever just, ever faithful
I will trust what You have hidden
You're generous, I am grateful
None can hold what You have given

Like a tree by the river
Always green, never withered
Bearing fruit for You
Everything I do
I dedicate to You

I will obey, I will obey You
As long as I'm living
I will obey, I will obey You
As long as I'm breathing
I pledge my all to heed your call
Every single day, I will obey

You surround the one who trusts in You
For all eternity
You reveal Yourself to young and old
Who serve you willingly

I will obey, I will obey You
As long as I'm living
I will obey I will obey You
As long as I'm breathing
I pledge my all to heed your call
Every single day, I will obey
